Mr Rex Lehman
Lehman Pacific Industries

Dear Sir

Re: SKY COOL

I thought that I would write this letter to you as testimony to our complete satisfaction with the performance of your product "Sky-Cool".

As you are aware, we came to Lehman Pacific for a solution to our problem of sophisticated reticulation equipment tripping out and failing due to the heat being endured by the computer controllers inside the galvanized irrigation shed.

The summer heat in Perth can be quite extreme. This is the time that our state of the art organic vineyard requires application of water through the Israeli irrigation system. Just when the vines were at their most vulnerable, the heat in the irrigation shed would exceed 50 degrees Celsius.

As per your recommendation, we applied Sky Cool to the shed. The next day, the temperature inside the shed was 1 degree lower than ambient. Even cynical vineyard managers agree – this product is quite amazing.

Thanks again for the consultation, rapid service and follow up and of course for supplying such a valuable product to the marketplace.

Yours faithfully
